Cure3 art exhibition party at Bonhams

With Cure³ - an initiative that rose out of the collaboration between Bonhams, the David Ross Foundation and Artwise - funding for The Cure Parkinson's Trust is ramping up. Fifty-three internationally acclaimed artists, including Damien Hirst, Jonathan Yeo and Allen Jones, generously donated work to sit inside 20cm³ transparent Perspex cubes, proceeds from which will be donated to the charity. Almost half of the cubes (on display until 15 March) have already been sold. Not that we're surprised, of course. For as much as the attendees might have denied it, no one could resist the allure of Grayson Perry's shiny nubbins. That's his art we're talking about, FYI - get your mind out of the gutter.
